I Rose Mary Cook, the wife of Laurence Cook of Whitter creek in the said county, do hereby acknowledge, that I did defame and abuse Susanna, the wife of Anthony Trouble, in slanderous and injurious several perticulars, reparable in a private manner, to the said Susanna (before she became the wife of the said Anthony Trouble) had acted as a common whore contrary to my then belief or knowledge.

And therefore the said Laurence Cook the husband, as well as the said Rose Mary Cook, do by these presents ask pardon of God and of the said Anthony Trouble for the injury done to his wife the said Susanna, deceased; hereby revoking, whatever either of them have at any time heretofore said to the prejudice of the said Susanna Trouble, deceased; and acknowledging the same to be false and groundless. In witness whereof the said Laurence Cook, and the said Rose Mary his wife, have hereunto set their hands.

4 o'clock, the Weather being ſerene, the Air clear, the Moon ſhining very bright, we were ſurpriſed with a moſt terrible ſhock of an Earthquake. The convulſions were ſo extreme as to wreck the houſes in this town to ſuch a degree as that the tops of many chimnies, and ſome of them quite down to the roofs, were thrown down, and ſeveral of the roofs upon which they fell were beat in. Many chimnies alſo, for 6, 7 or 8 feet below the top, were looſened and turned ſeveral inches on the main body; and others, with the brick walls of ſome houſes were diſjointed, burſt out and ſhatter'd. The wooden poſt that ſupported the Spindle and Vane of Fanueil-Hall market was by the ſhake broke off, and they fell to the ground on the north ſide. The upper part of the brick ends of ſeveral houſes and ſtores were thrown down; and great quantities of bricks, tiles and rubbiſh fell into many of the ſtreets, lanes and alleys: And in the inſide of many houſes, the Pewter, earthen, glaſs, china and other ware, were thrown off the ſhelves, and other places whereon they ſtood, and many things were broke to pieces. — By this aſtoniſhing event, the inhabitants of the town were, in general, put into great conſternation, fearing, every moment, leſt they ſhould be buried under their houſes; but, thro' the divine favour, no life was loſt.

We hear alſo, that by the ſame ſhock, the ſtone fences, chimnies, &c. in divers parts of the country for many miles diſtance, have been thrown down; and the people, cattle, and other creatures by their mutual agitation and noiſe, diſcover'd the greateſt ſigns of diſtreſs and horror. Some veſſels being at that time in the Bay under ſail, felt the effects of it; for tho' it was very calm, they were put in ſuch a motion as if they had run upon a rock: The ſame effects were felt on board the men of war and other veſſels which lay at anchor in the harbour. Such a great conſuſion was never known in this part of the world ſince inhabited by the Engliſh, as plainly the courſe of it was from about N.W. to S.E. and laſted about two minutes. — About three quarters of an hour after this was over, there was another ſhock.

Boſton, Nov. 27. Since our laſt we have had ſome account of the effects of the terrible earthquake of the 18th inſt. That the ſprings were dried up in ſeveral places, in others diverted, or new ſprings riſen; and in this town ſeveral wells were ſtopp'd by the violence of the motion. A child of Mr. Knowles a wine and his wife were buried in their cellar with the bricks and rubbiſh that fell from the chimney and walls.

We hear that at the eaſtern parts of the country as far as Caſco Bay, the ſhock was as ſevere as in this town, the ſtone walls and many of the chimnies in moſt of the towns were thrown down. Two or three ſmall ſhocks were felt the day following at Portſmouth, &c.

Rhode Iſland, and ſeveral parts of Connecticut, the ſhock was leſs ſevere than in this town: and the damage was chiefly, throwing down ſtone walls and tops of chimnies.

Towards the ſouthern ſhore it was thought more ſevere, where ſeveral eruptions were made in the earth, particularly at Schuſta, whence have iſſued great quantities of water, and a conſiderable ſort of earth, reſemble to flour, and of a white complexion.

By a perſon that came in Capt. Burnham, who arrived at Marblehead from Cadiz laſt week, we learn, that they felt the above ſhock 30 leagues E. of Cape St. Vincent, at a quarter paſt 4, but conceived they had run on a wreck, or gone upon a bar, but on throwing the lead, found they could not ſound in 50 fathom of water, and continued ignorant of what it was all morning; when, to their great ſurpriſe, they met a vaſt number of fiſh, large as well as ſmall, ſwimming that way, whereupon they concluded it could be nothing but an earthquake, and were informed it was ſo as they were going into the harbour.

Laſt Tuesday, about 40 miles off it, in the evening they deſcried a ſail to the weſtward, ſteering ſoutherly, which proved to be a ſmall ſhallop from Lunenburg, bound to this place, and had ſeen no land ſince they left Lunenburg.

We hear by the laſt veſſel from Halifax, that in a ſkirmiſh between ſome of the Indians and ſome of the Engliſh, ſeveral of the former were killed, and ſeveral of the latter taken priſoners, who, it was feared, would be put to death by the Indians, if they ſhould chance to fall into the hands of Gallic ſavages.

Philadelphia, Dec. 4. Monday arrived here capt. McPherſon in 27 days from Barbados, who informs us, that the day he ſail'd there was a ſurpriſing ebb and flow of the ſea at Barbados, by ſuddenly retiring to a conſiderable diſtance, and immediately returning again to ſo great a height as to overflow the ſtreets.

Extract of a letter from Liſbon, dated October 14.

"By letters from Gibraltar we have advice, that the young prince of Morocco, has ſeized on Mr. Mouteney, the Britiſh conſul at Sallee, and baſtinadoed him to death, and 'tis feared Mr. Pettigrew at Tetuan will ſhare the ſame fate; he endeavoured to retire to Gibraltar, but was denied that liberty. All the Sallee cruizers are ordered to take Engliſh ſhips, which we are afraid will ſuffer much by them. Commodore Edgecombe, with ſome more ſmall men of war, are gone in queſt of them, and we with may deſtroy theſe barbarians. The pretended cauſe of this outrage is, that, in the late war, an Engliſh privateer took a French veſſel from under the guns of one of their forts, for which the prince had demanded ſatisfaction, but never obtained any, and therefore was reſolved to carve for himſelf."

Boſton, Dec. 5. The Southern papers mention a ſmart earthquake of the 18th being felt at New-Haven, New York and Philadelphia, about the ſame time we felt it here in the morning of the 18th of November, but not ſo ſtrong as in this place, nor any conſiderable damage ſuſtained thereby.

We are likewiſe informed, that at Truro in Cape Town on Cape Cod, ſeveral eruptions were made in the compaſs of about 30 rods, and ſome of the chaſms were a rod in length, and about a foot wide; ſo that about the centre a few rods of the earth had ſunk near 6 feet.

The courier which arrived here laſt ſaturday with letters from Albany, brought advice, that after a conſultation held there by his excellency general Shirley, the governor of New York, and commiſſioners from all the governments that had troops in the expedition, it was determined to withdraw all the troops for the preſent, but ſuch a number as were thought ſufficient to defend the forts lately built at lake George.

Laſt tueſday arrived here Capt. Ebenezer Johnſon in 5 weeks from Liſbon, [illegible] a fortnight before the great earthquake in theſe parts on the 18th ult.

Boſton, Dec. 11. Laſt ſaturday a ſ[illegible] here from Newfoundland, the maſter of [illegible] that on his paſſage from this port to P[illegible] time ago, he met with a French bomb [illegible] for Louiſbourg.

Extract of a Letter from Halifax, dated Novem. 27.

—"Laſt week arrived here the Otter's prize, ſhe is a large ſhip and a fine prize: — Next week we have a thankſgiving: — Col. Winſlow is arriv'd with a party of 50 ſoldiers, there is 1200 more expected in town every day."

Paris, Oct. 20. They write from Britany and Normandy, that a great number of veſſels are got together upon the coaſts of thoſe provinces, and that, probably, they will be employed in a certain expedition, in caſe the means aim'd to reconcile the preſent differences ſhould fail of ſucceſs.

CHARLES-TOWN, January 8.

On Saturday the 27th ult. the ancient Society of Free Maſons held their Provincial Grand Anniverſary here. About 10 o'Clock, A.M. the Brethren waited on the Hon. Benjamin Smith, Eſq; at his own Houſe, where previouſly the Grand Lodge had been formed (the high Office of Grand-Maſter devolving on him as S.G.W. by the Abſence of the Hon. Peter Leigh, Eſq; and his Deputy's being confined by Sickneſs) whence they proceeded to St. Philip's Church, where a Sermon ſuitable to the Occaſion was preached, by their Reverend Brother the Rector of St. Paul's and Maſter of a Lodge. From Church they proceeded in the proper Order to the Lodge-Room, where, about 2 o'Clock, an elegant Entertainment, provided under the Direction of the Stewards, was ſerved up. None being preſent but thoſe of the Fraternity, the whole was conducted with that Decency and Decorum ſo peculiar to the Society. During the Afternoon, 'till 6 o'Clock, when the Grand Maſter ordered the Lodge to be cloſed and the Aſſembly broke up, all Cuſtoms and Solemnities were obſerved according to the ancient and venerable Uſages of Maſons.

past 4 o'clock, the Weather being ſerene, the air clear, the moon ſhining very bright, we were ſurprized with a moſt terrible ſhock of an Earthquake: The convulſions were ſo extream as to wreck the houſes in this town to ſuch a degree as that the tops of many chimnies, and ſome of them quite down to the roofs, were thrown down, and ſeveral of the roofs upon which they fell were beat in: Many chimnies alſo, for 6, 7 or 8 feet below the top, were ſonſened and turned ſeveral inches on the main body; and others, with the brick walls of ſome houſes were disjointed, burſt out and ſhatter'd: The wooden poſt that ſupported the ſpindle and vane of Faneuil-Hall market was by the ſhake broke off, and they fell to the ground on the north ſide: The upper part of the brick ends of ſeveral houſes and ſtores were thrown down; and great quantities of bricks, tiles and rubbiſh fell into many of the ſtreets, Lanes and alleys: And in the inſide of many houſes, the Pewter, earthen, glaſs, china and other ware, were thrown off the ſhelves, and other places whereon they ſtood, and many things were broke to pieces. — By this aſtoniſhing event, the inhabitants of the town were, in general, put into great conſternation, fearing, every moment, leſt they ſhould be buried under their houſes; but, thro' the divine favour, no life was loſt.

We hear alſo, that by the ſame ſhock, the ſtone-fences chimnies, &c. in divers parts of the country for many miles diſtance, have been thrown down; and the horſes, cattle, and other creatures by their unuſual agitation and noiſe, diſcover'd the greateſt ſigns of diſtreſs and horror. Some veſſels being at that time in the Bay under ſail, felt the effects of it; for tho' it was very calm, they were put in ſuch a motion as if they had run upon a rock: The ſame effects were felt on board the men of war and other veſſels which lay at anchor in the harbour. Such a violent concuſſion was never known in this part of the world ſince inhabited by the Engliſh, as plainly ſhould chance to fall into the hands of Gallic ſavages.

Philadelphia, Dec. 4. Monday arrived here capt. McPherſon in 27 days from Barbados, who informs us, that the day he ſail'd there was a ſurprizing ebb and flow of the ſea at Barbados, by ſuddenly retiring to a conſiderable diſtance, and immediately returning again in ſo great a height as to overflow the ſtreets.

Extract of a letter from Liſbon, dated October 14.

"By letters from Gibraltar we have advice, that the young prince of Morrocco, has ſeized on Mr. Mouneney, the Britiſh conſul at Sallee, and baſtinadoed him to death, and 'tis feared Mr. Pettigrew at Tetuan will ſhare the ſame fate; he endeavoured to retire to Gibraltar, but was denied that liberty. All the Sallee cruizers are ordered to take Engliſh ſhips, which we are afraid will ſuffer much by them. Commodore Edgecumbe, with ſome more ſmall men of war, are gone in queſt of them, and we wiſh may deſtroy theſe barbarians. The pretended cauſe of this outrage is, that, in the late war, an Engliſh privateer took a French veſſel from under the guns of one of their forts, for which the prince had demanded ſatisfaction, but never obtained any, and therefore was reſolved to carve for himſelf."

Boſton, Dec. 5. The Southern papers mention a ſmart concuſſion of the earth being felt at New-Haven, New York and Philadelphia, about the ſame time we felt it here in the morning of the 18th of November, but not ſo ſevere as in this place, nor any conſiderable damage ſuſtain'd thereby.

We are likewiſe informed, that at Province Town on Cape Cod, ſeveral eruptions were made in the compaſs of about 30 rods, and ſome of the chaſms were a rod in length, and about a foot wide; ſo that about the centre a few rods of the earth had ſunk near 6 feet.

The courier which arrived here laſt Saturday with letters from Albany, brough advice, that after a conſultation held there by his excellency general Shirley, the governor of New York, and commiſſioners from all the governments that had troops in the expedition, it was determined to withdraw all the troops for the preſent, but ſuch a number as were thought ſufficient to defend the forts lately built at lake George.

Laſt tueſday arrived here Capt. Ebenezr Johnſon in 6 weeks from Lisbon, a paſſage that [illegible] a fortnight before the great earthquake theſe parts on the 18th ult.

—"Laſt week arrived here the Otter's prize, ſhe is a large ſhip and a fine prize: — Next week we have a thankſgiving: — Col. Winſlow is arriv'd with a party of 50 ſoldiers; there is 1200 more expected in town every day."

Paris, Oct. 20. They write from Britany and Normandy, that a great number of veſſels are got together upon the coaſts of thoſe provinces, and that, probably, they will be employed in a certain expedition, in caſe the means ſaid to reconcile the preſent differences ſhould fail of ſucceſs.

CHARLES-TOWN, January 8.

On Saturday the 27th ult. the ancient Society of Free Maſons held their Provincial Grand Anniverſary here. About 10 o'Clock, A.M. the Brethren waited on the Hon. Benjamin Smith, Eſq; at his own Houſe, where previouſly the Grand Lodge had been formed (the high Office of Grand-Maſter devolving on him as S.G.W. by the Abſence of the Hon. Peter Leigh, Eſq; and his Deputy's being confined by Sickneſs) whence they proceeded to St. Philip's Church, where a Sermon ſuitable to the Occaſion was preached, by their Reverend Brother the Rector of St Paul's and Maſter of a Lodge. None being preſent but thoſe of the Fraternity, the whole was conducted with that Decency and Decorum ſo peculiar to the Society. During the Afternoon, 'till 6 o'Clock, when the Grand Maſter ordered the Lodge to be cloſed and the Aſſembly broke up, all Cuſtoms and Solemnities were obſerved according to the ancient and venerable Uſages of Maſons.
